Dear Administrative Counsel Member

REF: ADM File No. 2015-12

Please find below my comments on court rules to establish ability to pay.

• CHILD SUPPORT: Child support imposed by a court should only be considered ONLY if the defendant is up to schedule on his/her payments. If the defendant is not up to schedule or behind they are breaking another Law!, and should not be granted consideration in this area. A Friend of the Court document should be presented by the defendant showing payment status if they want consideration.

• Defendants who have been unemployed for more than 1 year and ARE NOT on Federal assistance should not be able to claim money is needed for medical expenses, food, or shelter. They are getting money from somewhere or somebody is giving them money.

• Federal + State income tax returns should be presented showing income or lack there of and below poverty level.

Thank you.
