Subject: Lansing State Journal Opinion Letter on Mediation

In the Lansing State Journal: "Pappas: Michigan, take cue from Nevada Issue: Foreclosure law Silver State does far more to assist homeowners."

Brian Pappas writes "... Partnering with legal aid, a mediation program overseen by the State Court Administrative Office could be administered through Michigan's 20 community mediation centers. These centers have the expertise to shepherd cases quickly, efficiently, and at low cost. Nevada's good faith requirement provides adequate assurance that everyone follows the rules. Michigan's homeowners deserve the same protection."
