SUPPLEMENTAL AUTHORITY

New Authority. Pursuant to MCR 7.212(F), the Appellants hereby submit People v. Harris, ___ Mich ___ (Opinion published June 22, 2016) (Docket Nos. 149872, 149873, 150042) as supplemental authority in support of Appellants' position.

Applicability to this case. In Harris, this Court approved the use of the corpus linguistics in determining the common usage and meaning of statutorily undefined words. Specifically, the Court endorsed the use of the Corpus of Contemporary American English (COCA) database for the purpose of searching for specific words or phrases.

To further assist the Court, Appellants have attached several exhibits, each containing various COCA search results:

- Exhibit A contains results for the word "spouse" where it is preceded by a freestanding adjective (e.g. "surviving spouse.")
- Exhibit B contains search results for the word "spouse" where it is preceded by a prefix in a hyphenated or compound word containing "spouse" (e.g. "ex-spouse" or "*nons*spouse.")
- Exhibit C contains results for the word "deceased," followed by a relevant noun (" * spouse," " * husband" and " * wife.")
- Exhibit D contains results for the word "former," followed by a relevant noun (" * spouse," " * husband" and " * wife.")
- Exhibit E contains results for the word "surviving," followed by a relevant noun (" * spouse," " * husband" and " * wife.")
- Exhibit F contains results for the prefix "ex-" followed by relevant nouns (" * spouse," " * husband" and " * wife.")

Each exhibit shows the relative frequency with which the words or word combinations appear in the COCA database.

Respectfully submitted,

Kenneth A. Puzycki (P45404)
